LET'S HAVE NO 'LET-DOWN'

The point has been well made that just because events of such tremendous importance are going on in the world about us on the international stage, we should not permit our interest in local problems to slacken.

After all, we in Appomattox have no greater problem than that of making APPOMATTOX grow and prosper.

True, we are greatly interested in the films, the Russians, the Japs, the Syrians, the Free French and Vichy French, the Chinese, the Mexicans, the whatnot . . . but in this day and hour you can't keep your mind off of MAKING YOUR OWN COMMUNITY STRONG!

There has of late been an unfortunate let-down of interest in state and local affairs. It is hard to arouse a ripple of interest in the candidates for state offices here sought to prevent to the detriment of MAKING YOUR OWN COMMUNITY STRONG!

Here in Virginia, there is virtually no interest in the election of a Governor, and the public has had no interest in the candidates for state offices here sought to prevent to the detriment of MAKING YOUR OWN COMMUNITY STRONG!

The writer shall not confine himself to 'viewing with alarm.' There are problems right here that should command our attention. We view it to be the duty of a newspaper to constantly advocate the cause of sound progress. For years we advocated a local three-point program: 1. A new high school building at Appomattox; 2. A town sewer system; 3. Restoration of the historic Appomattox Battlefield. The first two of these 'plans in our platform' have been realized, and the third is not only planned but is under way.

But, is that all? Shall we stop here? Are there other things Appomattox needs, and the advocacy and planning of which should command our attention? Let's see.

1. The health and appearance of our town requires that some way be found to provide at least a weekly collection of garbage and trash. Under its present budget, the town has insufficient funds to provide this service, but where there is a will, a way will be found, . . . and we advocate finding that way.

2. Our town has inadequate fire protection. Our fire engine is out-moded. Frankly it is about fifteen years old and it's tires have seen service over two hundred miles. We need more fire plugs over $250,000 worth of buildings in Appomattox could not be reached by water. If they caught on fire, maybe your home is included! Our town, our town is in danger, but, frankly, we would have to be the insurance company carrying protection on our properties in town.

3. We have a wonderful attraction nearby, in Hollister Lake. But the road into Hollister Lake should be improved.

4. Development of the playground at the Appomattox high school is a worthy project, especially procuring permanent playground equipment.

5. Appomattox should cooperate with other towns and counties on Route 460, to promote development of said route as the major east-west traffic artery of Virginia.

6. Plans should be started soon for the dedication of the Surrender Grounds, when the restoration is completed.

These are but a few of things Appomattox can and will plan. The Appomattox is a great center for manufacturing and shipping of wood, is a fine produce market, a fertilizer and lime center, has a fine battery factory, a fine garment factory, an automotive sales center, a banking center, has a good flour mill and corn grinding mill, is a highway engineering center, has one of the new state police radio stations, is headquarters for a considerable volume of Department of Agriculture business, has a splendid theatre, drug store, hardware, grocery, ready-to-wear and general merchandise, furniture, and other business enterprises typical of a town its size, and likewise, has active community organizations. Muchroom growth is not desirable for any town, and the growth of Appomattox has been of the steady and sound sort. We should not get impatient if all the improvements we need are

NOT IMMEDIATELY FORTHCOMING: we should rather become impatient only if we lose the will to progress.
